

PUBLIC HEALTH INFRASTRUCTURE SUB-AWARDS

MARIA CARUSO AND MARIE JACKMAN | APRIL 30, 2025

Request for Proposal Technical Assistance

PROGRAM INFORMATION

- Eligibility: Alaska-based regional Tribal Health Organizations and Tribes*
- Award Range: $100,000 - $400,000
- Application Due Date: May 28, 2025
- Anticipated # of Awards: Minimum of 2

TIMELINE

Application due May 28, 2025

Anticipated award notification date – July 1, 2025

Period of performance – approximately 1 year

Projects MUST END by September 1, 2026

PROJECT/PROGRAM SCOPE

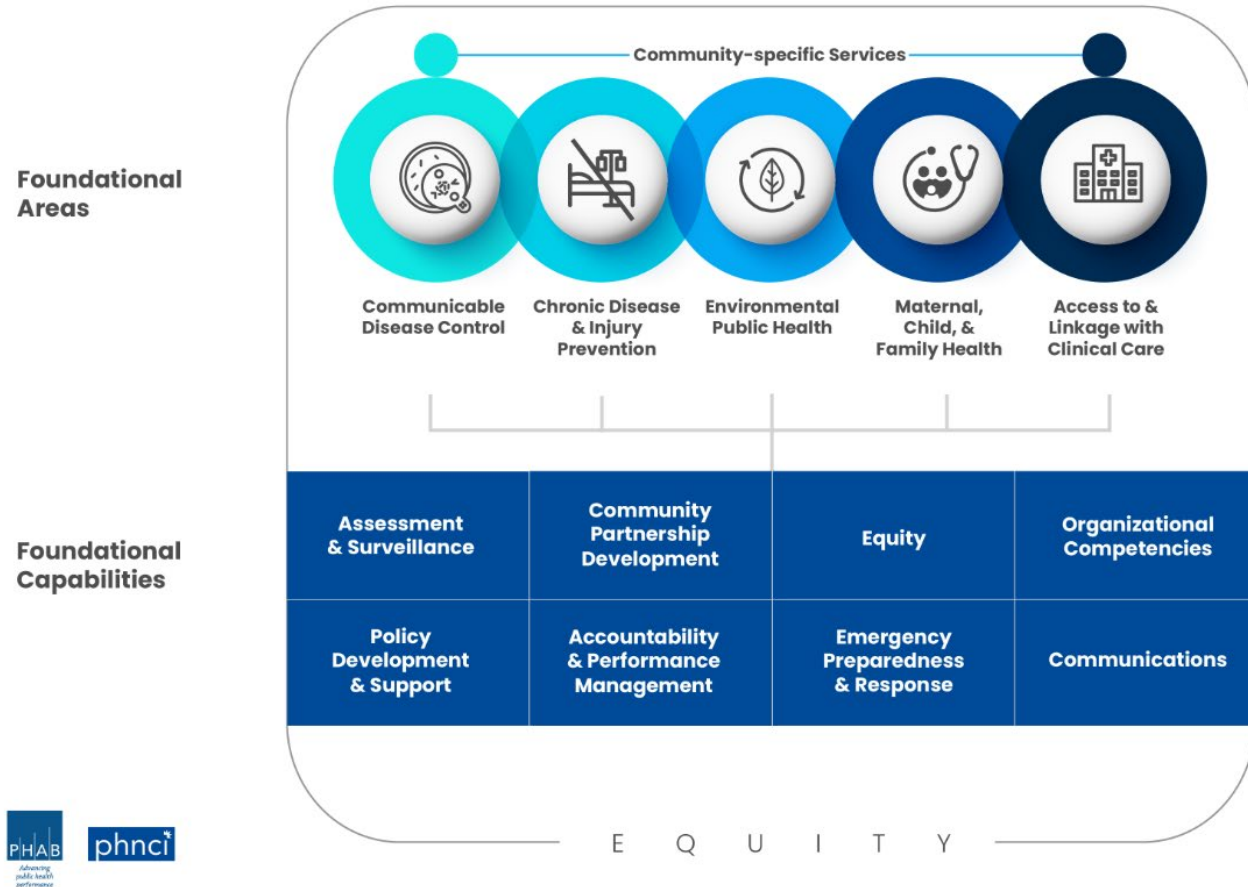

Foundational Public Health Services Framework

Includes both the Foundational Areas and the Foundational Capabilities

Program/project should build your organization's infrastructure/capacity in some way

Operational Definitions

Foundational Public Health Services

SAMPLE PROJECTS/PROGRAMS

- Increase capacity for conducting outbreak investigations and response.
 - Conduct assessment of STI prevention and care services and improve relevant interventions to reduce the burden of STIs.
 - Conduct internal or external public health infrastructure or community health needs assessment.
 - Develop/update/exercise emergency preparedness plans for public health emergencies.
 - Implement and evaluate a new public health intervention to promote health or address disparities in AN/AI communities.
 - Assess and support Environmental Health emerging needs of local communities.
-

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Application must include the following documents:

1. Application signed by authorized representative
2. Workplan with goals, objectives, activities, timelines and evaluation
3. Budget and budget narrative using template provided
4. Contact information form using template provided

Not required but recommended: Include potential impact on community

ALASKA NATIVE EPIDEMIOLOGY CENTER CORE FUNCTIONS

The Alaska Native Epidemiology Center provides public health and epidemiologic services to Alaska regional Tribal health organizations and other Tribal entities.

We have four core functions which serve as the framework for our activities.

Information Sharing

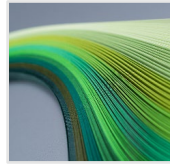

Surveillance and Applied Studies

Technical Assistance and Training

Disease Prevention and Health
Promotion

<https://epi.anthc.org/>

CONFERENCES AND TRAINING

Upcoming Trainings

- Demography 101 – May 20, 2025
- Data Storytelling – May 14 & 16, 2025
- TOP Facilitation Methods – May 28 & 29, 2025
- Applied Demography – June 5, 2025

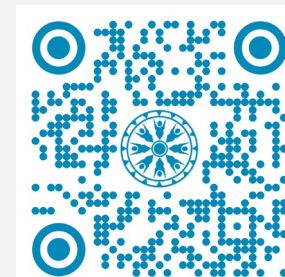

FY 26

- Tribal Public Health Summit
- Alaska Maternal Child Health and Immunization Conference

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

- Data/Information Requests: We respond to requests for information on Alaska Native health issues including health outcomes, risk factors, sociodemographics, health data reports, and other health-related topics.
- Presentations: We provide presentations on Alaska Native health status, health disparities, cancer, and other health topics of interest.
- Program Evaluation: We provide technical assistance to Tribal Health Organizations seeking support for program evaluation activities.
- Also available: Public health communication materials, literature search, and survey design

Scan to request
Technical Assistance

QUESTIONS?

- Submit questions to:
 - Maria Caruso: mtcaruso@anthc.org
 - Marie Jackman: msjackman@anthc.org
- Any available FAQs, webinar recording and RFP/application will available online - <https://epi.anthc.org/>

CONTACT US @

CALL: (907) 729-4567

EMAIL: anepicenter@anthc.org

BROWSE: www.epi.anthc.org